

Minor Building Over Easement Application 2024 – 2025

General Information

On the title of many properties, an area may be designated as an easement. Easements are areas of land that are generally kept as a clear space to allow for the installation of services like stormwater drains and sewers. Where such services exist, the easement generally needs to be kept clear for maintenance and/or access from time to time.

A property owner may be allowed to construct certain structures on or over an easement subject to certain conditions. For example, it may be possible to construct pergolas, small sheds, greenhouses, small retaining walls, etc. over easements where these works do not interfere with assets installed by the servicing authorities.

Property owners should consider all factors prior to applying to build over an easement and, if possible, keep all works clear of any easement. Approvals are required for any works of a permanent nature to be located on easements.

Application Procedure

The approval of the Council is required where the Council has rights to that easement. Easements may also be reserved in favour of other authorities for whom their separate approval would also be required, e.g., Melbourne Water, Yarra Valley Water and South East Water. A check of a current copy of the property title would show details of any registered easement and for what purpose the easement has been provided (usually shown as Drainage Easement).

If an easement is shown on your title indicating Council has rights to it and you wish to build over it, you will need to apply to Council's Engineering Department with the following:

the easement and all other buildings on the allotment;
Pay the $166.80 application fee (valid until 30 June 2025);
Complete a copy of the Minor Building Over Easement Application form; and Complete a copy of the Agreement for Construction of Minor Building and/or Works on an Easement . This must be completed and signed by all registered owners of the property and not agents acting on behalf of the property owners unless they provide a copy of their Power of Attorney.

One copy of scaled plans showing a site plan and detail of the extent of the encroachment onto Note. It is in the applicant's interest to ensure the appropriate forms and plans are completed in full and provided to Council so that the application can be properly considered within reasonable time, usually 20 working days. Following consideration of an application, written advice will be sent to the applicant advising them of the result of the application. Council reserves the right to keep all or part of the application fee, should an application be unsuccessful.
